Reconstruction.

The air is thick with rumors. Sanguine people are persuading themselves that the "open sesame" has been pronounced, and we are about to enter the chamber in which are stored the jewels of peace, unity, fraternity. Why not?

What is there in our differences or in our condition, in that which the war found or left, in the foundation of the strife or its legacies, to prevent a fair settlement? What reasons are there for discord? Must we forever fight because we have once fought? Surely not. The English and Scotch bushwhacked each other for generations, yet they finally ordained honorable peace—a peace so honorable that a Scotchman's loyalty to-day surpasses an Englishman's, albeit the Stuart blood has been crossed out of the throne.

Should differences of opinion forever divide us? Surely not. There are no prejudices of opinion so strong as religious convictions, yet the Catholic and Protestant cantons live in peace. Are these historical barriers between us? Surely not. The laurels of eighty-five years out of the ninety of our national existence were a common inheritance, and a common pride. Our language, our laws, our institutions, our material interests are the same, and in the expanding vista of a prosperity without precedent, to whom this land seems destined, there is no feature so promising as the evident existence of room for all.

Have we radical and ineffaceable diversities of sentiment as to government? It would seem not; for the Constitution is mainly the work of Southern men, and the seceding States, when they came to form a government, adopted it without material alteration.

What cause, then, beyond the miserable malice and fiendishness of politicians, can be assigned for the postponement of the pacification for which all useful interests and all worthy men are longing? And if there is to be peace, how?—Richmond Enquirer.

SOUTHERN ENTERPRISE—AN ENCOURAGING EXHIBIT.—The Sandersville Georgian gives the following account of Southern enterprise:

Virginia is setting an example to her sister Southern States. Her magnificent water power is being laid under contribution by the hands of genius and industry. The hum of the spindle and the loom, the noise of busy machinery in every department of the mechanic arts, is waking the echoes of those lovely valleys where but a few months ago "a crow in flying over them would have had to carry along its rations."

Tennessee is reported to have twelve mills in successful operation, with an invested capital of $700,000, and producing an annual aggregate of manufactured goods to the amount of $1,000,000.

South Carolina brings into play from her ashes, eleven cotton factories, running 27,000 splindles and 996 looms. In the vicinity of Fayetteville, in North Carolina, there are one dozen factories.

At Raleigh, in the same State, a mammoth building is to be erected for the manufacture of cotton and woolen goods, while Charlotte is now producing cloths and cassimeres of superior quality. This latter mill alone runs 25,000 spindles, and consumes about 3,000 pounds of wool weekly. Mississippi and Alabama are working out the problem of their independence, while Georgia, our own scourged State, sends out a loud amen from seventy-two mills in operation and twelve in process of erection. Of these latter, some are projected on a scale to rival the notorious Lowell or the pretentious establishment of Senator Sprague. Three miles from Covington, and but sixty from this office, has grown up since the war the village of Steadman. Under the magic touch of its founder, Mr. E. Steadman, mills for the fabrication of prints, woolen goods, homespuns and yarns are rapidly rising, and will soon supply a demand which has filled heretofore the pockets of our New England tax assessors.

The operators at the Middlesex Woolen Mills in Lowell, Mass., have struck on account of their wages being reduced.

The factories in Germantown, near Philadelphia, have generally suspended operations, by reason of the depression in trade.

The Rev. Dr. Duncan will address the Washington Literary Society of Washington College, at its anniversary celebration on the 22nd of February next.

$10 Reward.

THE ABOVE REWARD WILL BE GIVEN FOR the apprehension of two Colored boys named Fed, and Eldridge, who absconded from me about Jan. 1st. 1867. They are about fifteen years old, and very black, said boys were raised by me and have been regularly bound to me until 21 years of age, by the agent of the "Freedmen's Bureau" Raleigh, N. C.

All persons are forwarned from employing or harboring them, under the penalty of the Law. They were raised in Harnett Co., and may be lurking about that County or Raleigh. Any information of their whereabouts will be thankfully, received and liberally rewarded by the undersigned.

CLAIMS your confidence, and offers every inducement that reason can dictate to those who wish to provide a certainty for loved ones.

Half note and half cash for premium and privilege to travel or reside in any part of the United States.

OBJECTION 1.

I'M TOO POOR; I CAN'T AFFORD IT.

ANSWER.

If you are too poor to save less than half a dollar per week, at from 30 to 35 years of age, or proportionately at other ages, and find it so difficult to do so—should you be taken away by death, how bitterly poverty will strike home to your widow and children, or those dependent on you! Is it not worth a struggle to avoid this, and give them at least $1,000 by paying so small a sum? It costs just $2,00 per month to insure $1,000 at the age of 22 years.

OBJECTION 2.

I've talked to several of my friends, and they all advise me to have nothing to do with it.

ANSWER.

Will your friends undertake to provide for those you leave behind, in case you do not live long enough to save money? Ask them, and be guided by their answer.

OBJECTION 3.

I can't make up my mind; call again.

ANSWER.

Your other objections have been answered. I appeal to your own common sense to answer this for yourself, aided by

THREE PRACTICAL REFLECTIONS.

FIRST.—Nothing is so uncertain as Life.

SECOND.—No provision is perfect that is contingent upon the duration of your Life, which is not immediate.

THOS. C. HINES, M. D., Resident Physician.

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 23rd. day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required. In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages. This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States. Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.

A PROPOSITION.

IN WHICH YOU ARE INTERESTED.

I PROPOSE for the protection of the citizens of Raleigh and surrounding country, against the imposition of those so-called Cost Stores, to furnish each and every person, the New York Cost of any goods they may want to buy; by this means they can tell whether they are buying goods at Cost or paying a profit on them.

Call before going to any of those Cost Stores so-called, and let me give you a memorandum of Cost prices.

Most of my large stock I will sell at cost but I have goods that I will not sell in that way, and neither will those merchants who make such a flourish about selling at Cost.

No merchant in this place has purchased his Goods any cheaper than I bought mine. Any assertion to the contrary is false; and I will guarantee to sell Goods as low as any Cost House. All I ask is an opportunity to prove the truthfulness of this assertion.

JAMES M. TOWLES,

AN INVALUABLE DISCOVERY,

BY WHICH

Water can be Turned into Money.

Truly has it been said, "That the riches of this world, lie buried in the bowels of the earth." The precious metals that are daily taken from thence, readily procure all the luxuries and comforts,—save, the great boon to the sick, Health—without which, life is a burden, and the millions of the Rothchilds' would fail to secure.

To females suffering from Leucorrhea, (or Whites, as it is commonly called,) I, as a Physician of many years experience, would say, that you need not longer endure a miserable life of pains, aches and general debility, or weakness, the consequence of this deplorable disease.

All Physicians, of modern teaching, will admit the great difficulties in arresting this destroyer of health, for various reasons unnecessary to mention. Patients suffering therefrom will as readily agree, that medicines, however carefully prepared and used, fail, in most instances, to afford relief; and in many, from long continuance, produce debility, thereby increasing the malady they were expected to relieve.

Deeming it a great privilege to be a public benefactor, and add to the comforts of the afflicted, by placing before them means of relief, I here give the history of a few cases of great interest that have fallen under my professional care.

Mrs.———, a lady of the highest standing in the city of Charlotte, N. C., had been an incessant sufferer from Leucorrhea for three years. Her cheeks were blanched, her skin always cold and almost transparent—in fact she seemed not to have a red corpuscle in her body. So weak was she, that it was with great difficulty she could ascend a flight of stairs, without feeling faint and exhausted. Palpitation of the heart, head-ache, and a dizziness in the head, besides excruciating pains in the back, together with a bearing-down sensation in the region of the womb, were constant and alarming. Notwithstanding they were but symptoms of extreme debility, induced or kept up by the never ceasing drain from her system. In this condition, every means at my command was used for her relief. Remedy after remedy was tried. Every means recommended by our modern authors proved worthless in her case. Hearing of the case of a servant, whom I had formerly treated, (belonging to Mr. Cross,) having been very much benefited by this mineral water, I resolved, (without further inquiry,) as the last resort, to recommend to her its use. Anxious to be restored once more to health, she readily acceded to my proposition, and visited this well daily. Soon improvement was visible, and in the short space of three months her health was entirely restored. A living monument to the great curative virtues of this water.

The next case of great interest is that of the servant woman already spoken of. Seven years previous to the discovery of this well, Mr. Cross engaged my services in the care of this woman. I made most careful examination and searched out all of the particulars of her history. She had suffered for 18 years with Leucorrhea, and being sorely afflicted therefrom, it was universally known in our community, that she was the martyr of the town. I found her with all of the distressing symptoms attending this malady, and could only afford her temporary relief. Time passed on, and still her afflictions did not abate. She abandoned all hope of recovery, and resolved to take no medicines, but to resign herself to the fate which seemed to await her. Her master just then having discovered this well, advised that she should drink freely of the water, as it might be of some benefit to her. Like a drowning man catching at straw, she tried it, and improvement was soon perceptible. Perseverance was crowned with success, and this day she is a strong and healthy woman, and can be seen at the residence of her former master, and will take great pleasure in relating, in detail, to any visitors, the history of her case.

Many other cases known to us, of equal interest, have been cured, and others are being daily benefitted.

It is to be regretted that the pecuniary embarrassments incident to the late war precludes the idea, of Mr. Cross' fitting up this valuable property, as a resort for invalids. Under these circumstances, the owner (Mr. George Cross, of Charlotte, N. C.,) is willing to dispose of his property at the very reasonable price of $10,000 in U. S. currency, and will communicate with any one either by letter or personally.

The plantation of 100 acres of fine and productive land is situated within one and a half miles of the city of Charlotte, N. C., immediately on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad. A fine residence, with modern improvements and conveniences, together with all necessary buildings attached, have just been completed, and to capitalists seeking investments no finer inducements could be offered.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Saturday Evening, Feb. 9, 1867.

Releif Bill Passed!

We are glad to announce to our readers, that the House, to-day, by a strong vote, passed the Relief bill, which passed the Senate on yesterday, after a slight amendment, and afterwards, the Senate concurred in the amendment, and the bill became a law.

The late hour of its ratification, we fear, will prevent our giving it to our readers this evening, as we designed to do. We must, therefore, content ourselves until Monday, with giving a brief notice of its character.

The bill was a resume of various propositions which had been referred to the Judiciary committee, and seems to have been the only measure of present relief for the people, which could be devised in accordance with the views of the Legislature.

We understand that the bill amends the Convention Stay Law, and postpones the collection of all judgments and executions until 1868, obtained in the Courts, and provides that if debtors will, at the expiration of the stay granted by this bill, go forward and pay the tenth part of the debt and interest, at that time, then all process is suspended, so that the collection of the balance cannot be forced until 1869. The bill also restores the jurisdiction of magistrates to $100 and under, but stays a magistrate's judgment to twelve instead of six months.

Not having access to the bill, our notice may be incorrect in some particulars. In fact it is confined to only a few of its provisions, having received our information from parties who were present at its passage, but did not read it. At all events, it may be taken for granted, that the bill arrests, nole s solens, the collection of all debts, designated by the Convention Stay Law, until 1868, even though judgments may have been already obtained.

The National Congress.

This body is evidently becoming more independent of those who have hitherto claimed to lead. The course of Mr. Stevens especially, has indicated very strongly, that he thought he had the House in his breeches pocket. Recently, he has been made to feel that he was not omnipotent in that body, and that beyond the convictions and purposes of that body, he could not lead it.

The vote on yesterday, on Mr. Stevens' call for the previous question, upon the military bill from the reconstruction committee, was sufficient to teach him that his glory has departed, and that the party does not yield obsequiously to the crack of his whip.

It is rumored that the proposition to place the Southern States under military rule, and in fact to revive the war against our defenceless people, was gotten up to check-mate and discourage those who had given some countenance to the new plan of reconstruction, recently suggested by Southern gentlemen. If this idea be correct, it indicates that ultra radicals feel some apprehension of a modification of the temper of the North, and of a growing spirit of conservatism among the Northern people. God grant that it may be so.

It is suggestive also, to all conservative men North and South, of the importance of a united and persistent effort to do what they can to encourage that spirit. Chief Justice Chase at Philadelphia, and Mr. Wade at Memphis, when they declared that as the South could not or would not accept the Howard amendment, a plan which they regarded as exceedingly mild and conservative, that the South should submit a plan, it seems, meant what they said, and only indicated their anxiety for reconciliation and adjustment. It is palpable, that ultra men among the Republicans are not ready for settlement. They neither desire nor seek it, and design to put it off as long as possible, but the body of the people of the North cannot, we think, sympathize with that feeling. Every principle of sound reason, of interest and patriotism, must prompt every good citizen to desire it.

EFFECT OF CONGRESSIONAL ACTION.—The Philadelphia American, (Republican) speaking of the general prostration of business, attributes it in a great measure, to the political excitement kept up by the present Congress, and the prospect of its continuance by the meeting of the next Congress on the 4th of March next. The neglect of Congress to attend to the business interests of the country, it thinks will prevent the revival of trade.

The University--Agricultural Scrip.

The bill granting the benefits of the Agricultural scrip to the University of the State, passed the House on yesterday and the Senate to day. The friends of the University will be gratified at this result, and the public will be gratified that the bill requires the University to give tuition and room rent free of charge, to one student from every county in the State, to be designated by the County Court.

SCARED.—We learn that Mr. Holden, the editor of the Standard, left the city last night in post haste for Washington. There's a screw loose no doubt, but it is past mending by the EX. P. G. We learn that he is about as well known in Washington, as he is in North Carolina.

WE learn that Mr. B. F. Fraley has sold two building lots on Main, between Innis and Fisher Streets, for the very handsome sum of $100 per foot, front. Messrs. Bitting & Co. are the purchasers, who expect to improve them.—Sals. Banner.

WHIPPED.—L. Spell, of Alamance, who was arrested here some time since, charged with having stolen a horse from A. C. Carter, had a hearing before the County Court, last Wednesday, found guilty of the charge and whipped—Sal. Banner.

By Mr. Hodnett, a resolution to raise a Joint committee on sine die adjournment. Adopted.

By Mr. Granberry, a resolution on the condition of the people—adverse to present taxation for the payment of interest on the public debt. (This resolution was adopted, but subsequently, on motion of Mr. Williams, of Pitt, the vote was reconsidered, and then on motion of Mr. Cowan, the resolution was referred to the committee on Finance, with instructions that they report on Tuesday next.)

By Mr. Latham, of Washington, a bill to amend sec. 5, chap. 29, Revised Code, entitled "County Trustees."

By Mr. Murrill, a bill to incorporate the Jones County Savings Institute.

By Mr. Clark, a bill to incorporate the town of Scotland Neck, Halifax county.

By Mr. McClammy, a bill to incorporate Rocky Mount Academy, New Hanover county.

By Mr. Gambril, a bill to amend the charter of the town of Jefferson, Ashe County.

An engrossed bill to amend the charter of the town of Murfreesboro, passed its several readings under a suspension of the rules.

An engrossed bill to change the jurisdiction of the Courts, and the rules of pleading therein, had its first reading.

Mr. Dargan moved a suspension of the rules, that the bill might have immediate consideration.

Mr. Russ opposed a suspension of the rules. He was a friend of relief, but wanted time to examine the bill. It evidently needed amendment subjecting, ultimately, the property of debtors to the payment of creditors.

Mr. Dargan earnestly urged the necessity of immediate action. Ample time had been had for perfecting measures of relief. Nothing had yet been done, and the people were clamorous. We had all heard of the outrages committed in Pitt county recently—the stoppage of the Sheriff on the highway, and the forcible seizure of his official papers, etc. If relief is not granted such scenes would be re-enacted. The county court of Harnett would commence its session on Monday next, and the passage of the bill to-day would afford relief for many.

Messrs. Hutchison and McNair opposed hasty action in the premises, and desired further time for examination of the bill.

Mr. Moore of Hertford, endorsed the views of the gentleman from Anson (Mr. Dargan) and hoped the rules would be suspended.

Mr. Williams of Pitt, adverting to recent occurrences in Pitt county, (alluded to by Mr. Dargan) asserted that his constituents were loyal and law-abiding. The statements made by the gentleman from Anson, were unjust to his people. They were not revolutionary. The facts were simply these. The Sheriff was met on the highway and robbed. His office at Greenville had been subsequently robbed—not the Court House, as erroneously stated by the newspapers of this city especially.

Mr. Dargan disclaimed any design to reflect injuriously upon the citizens of Pitt county. His remarks had been based upon newspaper statements that had not been contradicted.

Mr. Wilson of Perquimans opposed postponement and asked for the Yeas and Nays. He favored the immediate passage of the bill.

The rules were suspended. Yeas 84 Nays 8.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Peebles offered the following amendment, as an additional section: "Be it further enacted, That no deed of trust or mortgage for real or personal estate, made, signed, or registered during the next twelve months succeeding the ratification of this act, shall be valid at law to pass any property as against creditors, or purchasers for a valuable consideration from the donor, bargainor or mortgagor."

Mr. McNair moved that the bill be printed and made the special order for Thursday next, at 12 o'clock. M.

This motion was subsequently modified (at Mr. Durham's instance) so as to fix the hour of 11 A. M. on Monday next for the consideration of the bill.

Messrs. Dargan, Boyd, Everett, Guess, and others opposed this motion.

Mr. McKay said he had examined the bill carefully and was in favor of it. He thought, however, that no provision had been made in the case of small judgments issued by justices of the peace, and now in the hands of constables. Relief was needed in this particular, and he would suggest a reference of the bill for a half hour, with a view to amendment, if these cases were not already embraced in the bill.

Mr. Waugh entertained like views with regard to small judgments in the hands of constables. His constituents needed relief from these more than all others. If these cases were not provided for he would vote against the bill, though a friend of relief.

Mr. Dargan stated that the provisions of the bill extended ample relief in this instance.

The motion to postpone was rejected, yeas 25, nays 72.

The question recurring on the amendment offered by Mr. Peebles.

Mr. Waugh opposed the amendment and all amendment.

Mr. Peebles deprecated the disposition evinced by friends of the bill to prevent amendment.—Every stay law stood, he said, by the sufferance of creditors, and their rights should not be left wholly without protection. He cited the opinion of Judge Story in the premises, adding, that, should the bill pass without amendment, appeal after appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court, and every barrier to the collection of debts would be swept away.

Mr. Whitfield favored the bill and opposed the amendtment.

Mr. Perry, of Carteret, was opposed to the bill as it stood. The Senate had stricken out the provision requiring debtors to make oath at the Spring Term, that they could not raise the tenth required by the existing Stay Law, without a ruinous sacrifice of property. With this provision he could have supported the bill. The bill as it stood was alike regardless of the rights of creditors and the obligation of debtors.

Mr. Baker was in favor of relief to debtors, but unwilling to ignore the rights of creditors. He feared the relief proposed by this bill would prove a delusion and a snare.

The question recurring the amendment was rejected, yeas 31, nays 65.

The following amendment offered by Mr. Bryson was adopted:

Provided, That executions on Justices judgments granted on debts contracted prior to May 1st 1865, already rendered shall be stayed for twelve months from the date of the ratification of this act.

Mr. Hutchison offered the following amendment: "Be it further enacted, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent Guardians collecting one tenth of claims due their wards, at Spring term 1867, according to the provisions of the late ordinance to change the jurisdiction of the courts."

Mr. Hutchison said that he favored relief, but held views similar to those advanced by Mr. Perry, of Carteret, and thought that some protection should be accorded to creditors.

The amendment was rejected.

Mr. Crawford, of Rowan offered the following amendment:

"Be it further enacted, that all writs in actions on contracts made before the 1st day of May 1865, shall constitute a lien upon the defendant, but after said judgment, property shall be applied pro rata, without regard to priority, in the date of the writs."

Mr. Crawford was for relief, but could not support the bill without an amendment of this nature.

Mr. Brown urged the adoption of this amendment.

The question recurring the amendment was rejected.

Mr. McNair offered an amendment allowing Executors, Administrators, Trustees and Guardians, who qualified prior to the first of May 1865, until the year 1870 to settle their estates. Rejected.

Mr. Westmoreland offered an amendment that the provisions of the bill should not apply to the counties of Stokes and Forsyth. Rejected.

(Anxious to give the several positions of gentlemen, on this important bill, we are reluctantly compelled, for the want of time and space, to stop here, and defer the rest of the proceedings till Monday's issue.)

DEATH OF TWO OLD LADIES.—Two deaths occurred in our city yesterday. Miss Mary T. Holland, age about 85 years, and Miss Susan Giles, age about 65 years. They were both noted for their many virtues and christian devotion.—Sal. Banner.

For the Sentinel.

The North Carolina Railroad.

The recent speech of the Hon. Josiah Turner, on the N. C. Railroad, will certainly do good, in directing public attention to the gross mismanagement of all our public works. But his remedy, of "self examination," will give us no dividends, will not advance the price of our stocks. It is the old cry of retrenchment and reform. We heard it on this Road when the contracts were let, when the shops were built, when the hotel was erected. We have heard it in the Halls of Legislation and before the people. We have heard it in times of peace and in times of war. We have heard it on Deep River, on the Cherokee Turnpike, on the Atlantic Road, on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Road, on the Albemarle Canal, and on the Western Extension. And now, when this N. C. Road squanders a million and a half in a single year, we hear it again in the bold invective of my eloquent friend. Again and again have committees of investigation been appointed. But there has been no real reform. The storm subsides and things resume their wonted course. The disease is not simply "pains in the stomach." It is no local malady. It is one that pervades the whole system. The evil lies in our policy of joint management, between the State and individuals. This policy is one without a fixed responsibility. It inspires no zeal, no pride, no energy, no confidence, no hope. Capitalists and business men see this. They refuse any stock where the State is concerned. Politicians, I mean public men by trade and habit, do not see this because they are, more or less, identified with the present policy, and they hope to promote, at least, certain personal, local and political ends, by pandering to and perpetuating it.

My honorable friend is pleased to say, that myself and those who agree with me in these views, are only "looking out for a scapegoat," and that we "have found him in the person of the State." He does me injustice. I made no complaint against North Carolina. She has acted with rare liberality in the great work of Internal Improvement. I only grieve that the mismanagement of all her public works gives her now, in her hour of need, no returns for the millions spent in building them. Most of these works make money; but it is all squandered again, and no mortal man can stop the drains. The State gets no dividends, and her stocks, amounting to the vast sum of $9,347,465.22, are worthless in the market. I blame no man nor set of men for this state of things. I voted, myself, for the present system in the Legislatures of 48-'9 and '50-'1. But I did it in ignorance of the experience of other countries, other States and other corporations on this subject. Since then I have had nothing to do with public affairs in the State. I soon found out the error we had committed and, in my business arrangements, I cut loose, as far as possible, from all Railroads in which the State exerted a controlling influence. The results of the war have recently cast upon me a considerable amount of N. C. R. R. stock. At the Stockholders meeting in July last, I was appointed, with others, on two committees that were required thoroughly to overhaul the workings of the Road. Three days investigation disclosed the fact, that the affairs of the Company were in utter confusion. Disorder pervaded all its departments. No man could tell its debts; no skill could close its leaks. Mr. Turner calls "our system one wide sea of extravagant expenditure and waste," and says that "we stand on the verge of bankruptcy and ruin."

A meeting of the Stockholders was promptly called, to consider the condition of affairs.—Many of them had long suspected the mismanagement, and had made repeated efforts to effect reform. But it was all in vain. Defeat after defeat had paralized their exertions.—Many had sold their stock, and all had become more or less indifferent. In this mood, they met in Raleigh, in December last. After full consideration, the Stockholders, almost unanimously, agreed to ask the Legislature so to amend the charter as to give them the controlling power. No one seemed to oppose this.—Eighteen years' experience had satisfied all, that the present system of joint management would not work successfully. There was a difference of opinion in regard to the scale of the individual stock. But on the main question of reorganization there was no difference. It was regarded as the only means of saving the Road, the State and the private Stockholders. Mr. Turner made a speech, in which he ventilated his ideas of "self examination," and in which he gave the Stockholders some heavy and just blows for their past neglect and indifference.—But I did not understand him to oppose the main amendment to the charter, and, therefore, did not care to enter upon the defence of the Stockholders. My theory is that the system of joint management so divides responsibility, as to paralize the energies of all persons and parties interested in the Road, or concerned in its management, and renders it impossible to fix the blame on any particular man or set of men. Since the publication of Mr. Turner's speech, I find that he has fallen into gross errors and inconsistencies, in regard to the history of the Company, and that he does the private Stockholders much injustice. He says: "From the day of Gov. Reid's election, in 1850, to the present day, a period of sixteen years, this Road has been, as it is now, under the full, complete and entire control of the Stockholders, their Presidents, Superintendents and Directors."

This paragraph discloses, at a glance, Mr. Turner's strong party proclivities, his ignorance of the Road he is appointed to manage, and the recklessness of all his statements.

Two, out of the five Presidents of the Road, to wit: Messrs. Cameron and Boyden have been State appointees. So, too, from the day the State came into the Company, to the present time, she has had eight out of the twelve Directors, and has always voted in the Stockholders' meetings, through her proxy, three to one against the Stockholders. With this large preponderance of power in favor of the State, it is nonsense to talk about the Stockholders controlling the Road,—"full, complete and entire," through "their Presidents, Superintendents and Directors." But this argument cuts two ways. If, by some hook or crook, the Stockholders have been able to get control of the Road, and have all the time been mismanaging it, why, pray, did not the State, through her eight Directors and her all powerful proxy, interfere and stop the mismanagement? I assert, with confidence, that according to this agreement, the State Directors, and the State proxies, have, through many long years, been guilty of gross neglect of duty in discharging their high trusts to the people of North Carolina.

Again he says, (to the Stockholders:)

"In 1852, the Legislature gave you what you now ask, to wit: the control of the Road. At the first meeting of the Stockholders, after this liberal surrender on the part of the State, you rejected it. You refused to take what you now ask to be given you. I need not say I favored it then, upon what I thought to be sound principle."

At one time he avers the Stockholders have always had control of the Road; and at another he denounces them for having rejected that control! He "favored" the measure now proposed in 1852, as "sound principle," and publishes a speech designed (without saying so) to kill the very measure he then favored.

But this paragraph, like the first, is full of errors in fact. The amended charter rejected in 1852-'3 did not propose to give the Stockholders the control of the Road. On the contrary, it provided expressly that eight of the twelve Directors should be "appointed annually by the Governor."

The Board is the real governing power. They make and unmake Presidents, Superintendents and all other officers, and they can remove them at any time. But it did propose a scale of the stock, both State and individual—which, if adopted, would have lessened somewhat the overshadowing influence of the State in the general meetings. This scale, not the control of the Road, was rejected. And this little concession (allowed on other Roads in which the State is interested) was defeated in the Stockholder's meeting by the influence of those representing the State, and was no doubt done for party purposes. The rejection was effected after a hard struggle, by a stock vote of 4,901 to 3,460. A large majority of the individual Stockholders present voted for the scale, to wit, 59 to 35.

Mr. Turner is also mistaken in saying he "favored" this measure in 1852-'3. His name does not appear in the list of voters, and he was not a Stockholder in the Company until 1866, when five shares are transferred from J. Turner, Sr., to J. Turner, Jr., and the latter is made a State Director.

Still again, Mr. Turner charges that the Stockholders, some of whom were contractors, swindled the State. He misses his mark. The Stockholders, as a body, with their President, Gov. Morehead, made desperate efforts to bring certain delinquent contractors to account. Gov. Morehead refused to the last to accept the work, or to pay the estimates put upon it. It was not until the Road became a political machine and the influence of the State crushed out all opposition on the part of the individual Stockholders, that the work was accepted. That Col. Fisher, who was one of the Stockholder's Presidents, favored the acceptance of this work, does not alter the case. Though chosen by the Stockholders, his election was really due to the irresistible pressure of the political power of the State. After the rejection of the amended charter of 1852-'3, many of the original Stockholders saw the direction affairs were taking, and sold out in disgust. The Road has been a State or political institution ever since. Mr. Turner and certain other public men, most of them mere politicians, owning little or no stock in the Road, wish to continue it as such, thinking their time has now come. Alas! for the people of North Carolina, when her public works are thus used for political ends. If her stocks and bonds in these works were now at par, or even 50 cents in the dollar, they would nearly pay her State debt, or if sold or pledged, they could be made to complete every unfinished Road in the State.

But, though the power and spirit of the Stockholders have long since departed, under the baneful influence of their fatal connection with the party politics of the State, they have now and then come to the rescue, and attempted to correct many of the very evils and abuses so loudly complained of. I will refer Mr. Turner and the other State Directors to the resolutions of the Stockholders, requiring the Board to publish quarterly statements of all expenditures; to those against officials and employees "trading" and "trafficing" on the Road; to those against "Dead Heads;" to those against Express monopolies on their line; and to their long and persistent efforts to have the books and accounts properly kept, and their more recent attempts to look into the loss of the sinking fund and the missing cotton.

But Mr. Turner assumes that because the Presidents of the Company have usually been taken from Directors elected by the Stockholders, therefore, the Stockholders have had control of the Road. No such conclusion follows. In point of fact there have been no distinct lines drawn in the action or conduct of the two sets of Directors. It is not pretended that as a body, the State Directors have differed from the others. The idea is that the joint management has divided the responsibility, and weakened the obligations resting on all parties in the management of the work. It is clear that without a fixed responsibility resting on some man or set of men, there can be no efficiency. Without efficiency there can be no success. But apply Mr. Turner's rule and reverse the argument, how does he stand? Badly as Gov. Morehead, Col. Fisher and Mr. Webb have succeeded in operating the Road—how do they compare with the two State Presidents, Messrs. Cameron and Boyden? Morehead triumphed over every difficulty, built the Road, and retired fighting the contractors and plunderers. Fisher devoted his whole soul to the work, gave us two small dividends, and left it to offer up his life on the field of battle. Webb brought the Road through four years of war, in fair running order, and saved us 657 bales of cotton, besides a large amount of supplies and other property. But in July 1865, the State, for the first time, took control of the work on political grounds, and we behold the result! I will only say that no President, put in by the Stockholders would have dared to act as Mr. Boyden did. A decent respect for those who elected him would have forbidden it. But who cares for the State? Does even Mr. Turner in his general phillipic, utter one word against the State Board of 1865, or their model President? So far from this, the State inquisitor, Josiah Turner, Jr., begins his grand work of self-examination, by venturing a lame apology for his Honorable friend? So much for the practice of self-examination. Here is the root of the evil. It is under the shelter of this mongrel management, this divided responsibility, that all the abuses of this Road are covered up. The Board of '65 and their President, all escape, and a pitiful attempt is made to make a "scape-goat" of a third man, Mr. Wilkes, who only carried out the wild, extravagant and wasteful policy of the Board that elected him.

As to Mr. Cameron, the other State President, he exhibited capital sense in soon discovering the impossibility of operating the Road successfully under the present system, and promptly resigned after a few months' trial.

I propose, in a subsequent number, to show why and how this Road has been mismanaged, and to indulge in a little "self-examination."

From the National Intelligencer.

The Call of Chief Justice Chase Responded to in the South.

We augured favorably for our country when it was made known that all the Justices of the Supreme Court united in declaring the illegality of the acts of military courts concerning civilians, and that that high tribunal would assert principles that, in view of constitutional provisions, must sweep away the foundations of proscriptive sectionalism. The rumor that Chief Justic Chase gave no countenance to that form of partisanship, which would shake our political fabric to its foundations, in an attempt by madmen, in Congress and out of it, to usurp the Presidency, in fraud of law, fact, and public policy, also serves greatly to quiet the sensitiveness of popular apprehension.

So, too, when the same functionary, in a spirit worthy of a just mind and the highest judicial position in the land, to say nothing of statesmanlike forecast, in effect pronounced at Philadelphia against a destructive policy of rabid politicians, heated by success in the elections, the Conservative masses took decided heart and hope. He there saide:

"The Congress of the United States has offered its terms, and I will take the liberty here to say that I think a more generous, a more magnanimous proposition was never submitted to a people, who have been in rebellion, than the amendment which has been proposed by Congress. (Applause.) If those communities that have been in rebellion have anything to propose, if they think there is a better mode, a more generous mode, a mode better calculated to secure the peace and harmony and prosperity of this great land, let them come forward and propose it, and the people will listen and judge."

Referring to the above declaration, we spoke as follows:

Judge Chase, notwithstanding the menace against him for consulting or conferring with the President, looks to an alternative for the rejection of the constitutional amendment.—Herein he differs from the ruck of Radical presses, since that they breathe nothing but fire and blood to the Southern people, in the event of such rejection.

The words that we have italicized are the suggestion of statemanship—of a disposition not to give up the ship, but finally bring it, by some means, into safe harbor. We welcome with sincere joy this declaration from so exalted and influential a source. Nor do we allow ourselves at this time to doubt that the sentiment will be responded to by many Republicans of the more conservative type in Congress.

After it is settled legally that the constitutional amendment is not adopted, and the way is thus made clear for other suggestions, the excluded States, in furtherance of the idea of Mr. Chase, may meet in general convention, and take steps looking to terms of reconciliation upon consultation with the Conservative element in the North. Or a movement may be initiated for a national constitutional convention.

In this connection, we cannot forbear stating that we have high authority, from other sources than the careful and well-informed Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, [Radical,] of the reliability of the recent statement of the latter, as follows:

"Mr. Chase has recently had two interviews with the President. The first of these was concerning judicial matters, and had no connection with a subsequent informal meeting of Cabinet ministers. At the second interview, by appointment for that purpose, he was asked and gave his opinions upon the questions before the country, earnestly advising the President to recommend the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution as a just basis of settlement, or, if he was not prepared for that, to take ground in favor of substituting for the second and third sections of the amendment universal nesty and impartial suffrage."

All the above ideas and facts are important in connection with the actual response in the South to the call of the Chief Justice for a plan of reconciliation and restoration, by which all the people may be united for a grand advance upon the high road of assured national prosperity.

The plan which has now gone to the country originated with the most judicious men of the Carolinas, has been considered by men of the South having the confidence of that section, by distinguished statesmen and military chiefs here, and has been endorsed largely in circles of conservative Republicans of the North. It has been submitted to legislators at Richmond, and has been received in good spirit, though not with unqualified approval. The Legislature of North Carolina will probably have the honor of first acting upon a measure that, like the Mecklenburg Delaration of Independence, may be the initiation of what shall lead to great and be glorious results. Much will depend, however, upon the spirit in which it will be received at the North. If patriotism shall dictate that party shall stand still, while a measure for a reunion of "States and lands, and hearts," shall be the dominant question for consideration until settled in the interest of all the people of the country, then our dark day and perilous period is past. It is in the spirit with which the new plan is received, not its details—not in the prospect of its adoption as a whole—that we have hope. If it is generally received in a good spirit, and with kind feelings, all the rest will follow as the light the day.

THE SENTINEL.

Saturday Evening, Feb. 9, 1867.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Col. Farrar's Lecture, last evening, was fully as well attended as the first, and gave great pleasure to the large and appreciative auditory. He possesses rare capacity as a popular Lecturer,—uniting felicity of style and aptness of illustration, and an inexhaustible fund of humor and drollery, with genuine pathos and real eloquence. His lecture, to-night, is upon a subject—"Johnny Reb's Wife,"—which affords a fine opportunity for the display of all these powers, and will doubtless be unusually attractive and entertaining.

We infer that it is Col. Farrar's purpose to deliver his series of Lectures at other points in this State. We take pleasure in commending him to our people, and our brethren of the Press, as an accomplished gentleman and a true representative of the ex-Southern-soldiery.

P. S. We are requested by Col. Farrar to say, that owing to the state of the weather, his Lecture for to-night is postponed until Monday night.

Miss Mary A. Buie.—We call attention to the enterprise and proposition of this indefatigable lady in the work of benevolence and humanity. Her advertisement is published in our columns. We were mistaken in supposing that she had already founded a school at Columbia, S. C. No school has been established. She solicits contributions for the establishment of a school or schools in South Carolina, and also in this State. The funds are to be placed in the hands of responsible men to manage, for the benefit of these schools.

Crowded Out.—The remarks of Messrs. Thornton, of Warren, and Cunningham, of Person, on the bill called the Stay Law, which passed the Senate, on yesterday, are necessarily crowded out by other matter. They will both appear on Monday.

Louisburg.—At the municipal election in Louisburg on the 4th inst., W. H. Pleasants was re-elected Mayor, and Messrs. Thos. White, Jos. Harper, Jas. Dent and Dr. W. W. Green, were elected Commissioners.

Sad Affair.—The barn, crib, &c., of Enoch Lane, residing near Core Creek, says the Newbern Commercial, were destroyed by fire a few nights since, and all his corn and other supplies went with them. The fire was accidental, but resulted from the carelessness of one of the negro boys employed by Mr. Lane.

North Carolina Conference.—Messrs. Branson & Farrar, Publishers, of this city, have laid on our table a neat pamphlet copy of the Journal of the last North Carolina Annual Conference, printed by Messrs. Nichols, Gorman & Neathery, job printers, of this city.—Besides the regular proceedings of the Conference, it has a good deal of valuable matter in the appendix.

In the bounds of the Conference, there are 30,362 white members, and 5,074 colored, making an increase of 2,367 white members, and a decrease of 2,013 colored members. The decrease of colored members is owing to the large number who have joined the African M. E. Church. There are also 178 local preachers, and 10,336 Sunday School scholars.

Some of our cotemporaries have published the above as the number of Methodists in the State. This is an error. Besides the North Carolina Conference in this State, the Virginia, Holston and South Carolina Conferences occupy portions of it. Hence, before the war, there were about 70,000 Methodist communicants in the entire State, and about 500 local preachers. Perhaps at the present time, owing to deaths during the war, and the number of colored members who have left the M. E. Church, South, and joined the African M. E. Church, there are at present, not more than 60,000 communicants in the M. E. Church, South, in the State.

Attempted Burglary.—About 8 o'clock last evening, a noise was heard in the rear portion of the extensive establishment of Messrs. I. H. & J. C. Privett, which proved to be the presence of a negro in the act of helping himself to the pickled pork. He was ordered not to move, but the clerk turned his head to call for help, when the negro sprung at him, caught hold of the pistol he had in his hand, and tried to take it away from him. The negro became frigtened, and finding that he couldn't take the pistol, ran, when he was fired at five times.—Goldsboro' News.

The whole number of Congregational Churches in the United States is 2,790; last year 2,723; ministers 2,919; Church members 267,455; contributions estimated at $1,500,000.

A Scene.—We are informed that a scene occurred at the Court House, before the county court, this week, that completely eclipses Cousin Sally Dillard, for novelty and amusement. Won't somebody report it for us? Where is the author of Cousin Sally Dillard.—Salisbury Banner.

SCHOOLS IN NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA,

FOR THE

Orphans of Confederate Soldiers.

REFERENCES:

"Columbia, Oct. 19, 1866.

Miss M. A. Buie, so favorably known during the war as the "Soldier's Friend," is engaged in the attempt to found a School for the orphan children of Southern Soldiers. She proposes that contributions for this purpose should be placed in the hands of some gentlemen of this State, to be appointed by the Governor, and that the School shall be located in some desirable portion of the South. I commend this laudable undertaking to all charitable persons, and I wish that the amplest success may reward the patriotic efforts of Miss Buie.

"I concur with Gen. Hampton in commending the benevolent enterprise of Miss Buie to the favor and patronage of the generous, liberal and philanthropic. Her life thus far has been devoted to acts of kindness and charity, and she merits success in her undertaking.

J. L. ORR, Governor."

"State of South Carolina, Executive Department, Columbia, October 26, 1866.

Miss Buie:—I approve of your suggestion to appoint Mr. D. L. McKay, of Charleston, as Treasurer, to receive the funds and hold them for the Female School you are interesting yourself to establish for the education of orphan girls. He is a gentleman of high character, great moral worth, and enjoys the confidence of the public

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. L. ORR."

Mr. McKay accepts the office. All funds sent to South Carolina must be sent to him.

MARY ANN BUIE.

"The People's National Bank, Charleston, S. C., Jan. 8, 1867.

Dear Miss Buie:—It will afford me much pleasure to serve as Treasurer of the school in Columbia, S. C. for educating Soldiers' Orphans. You have my best wishes in the undertaking. With regard and esteem,

Yours truly,

D. L. McKAY.

President People's National Bank."

Miss Buie begs the co-operation of all persons to aid her in this enterprise to educate and make good and useful thousands. All donations must be paid to the Treasurers appointed by the two Governors.—Gov. Worth says:

"You may rely on my co-operation. You ask me to appoint some suitable persons as Treasurers. I suggest Geo. W. Mordecai, of Raleigh; Wm. A. Wright of Wilmington; Philip A. Wiley, of Fayetteville; John D. Whitford, Newberne; Jesse H Lindsay, Greensboro; D. A. Davis, Salisbury; I. G. Lash, Salem; R. F. Swinston, Statesville; L. W. Dewry, Charlotte; Gen. Robert Vance, Asheville. If other names are desired in other localities, I will designate them. May you be successful in this, the noblest charity in the use of the benevolence to which you have devoted your life.

Yours very respectfully and truly,

Southern Republican Association—Jefferson Davis.

Washington, Feb. 8.

The Southern Republican Association had a meeting last night, Durant in the chair, and considered the reconstruction committee's bill. Fowler of Tenn. opposed it. Griffin of Mobile proposed amendments, involving the enrollment of loyal militia. Moss of Missouri said that Congress did not think loyal men fit to govern the South. Heistand of Louisiana favored the military plan, saying the States were in the hands of the rebels, asked, how can loyal governments be formed unless the rebel governments are put out of the way. He hoped the association would not oppose Congress. Sherwood of Texas favored the bill. Cutler of Louisiana wanted the association to counsel with, not dictate to Congress. Hamilton opposed the bill.

Gentlemen who visited Mr. Davis yesterday reported his health better than for six months past. He has the freedom of the fortress grounds. Visitors are admitted freely. He declines discussing politics, or his personal affairs, and bears his confinement with cheerful fortitude.

Congress.

Washington, Feb. 8.

House.—The bill prohibiting the transportation to the United States of foreigners, was referred.

The Secretary of War was directed to inform the House what Southern Railroad company's purchased federal rolling stock, amount purchased, and the amount paid.

The reconstruction committees bill came up and was discussed with great bitterness. Mr. Raymond made a strong speech against it.

Mr. Banks blamed Stevens for delay.—Hoping the discussion would lead to some plan which would harmonize Congress, the Executive and the country.

Mr. Stevens persisted in defiance of fifty appeals for delay from all portions of the House.

The previous question failed of being seconded by a vote of 61 to 93.

A half dozen amendments, substitutes, &c., were immediately presented and ordered to be printed.

In the Senate petitions from New Mexico for indemnity for losses from the Texan raids during the war, was received.

The joint resolution to pay the Tennessee home guards organization, by Gen. Burnside, was referred.

The Nebraska bill was taken up and passed, the President's objection to the contrary notwithstanding, by a vote of 31 to 9.

Clifford, of Mass., Hon. Wm. Aiken, of South Carolina, W. M. Evans, Esq., N. Y., Hon. W. A. Graham, N. C., Chas. McAlister, Pa., G. W. Biggs, Esq., Washington, Samuel Wetmore, N. Y., E. A. Bradford, La., Geo. N. Eaton, Md., and G. P. Russell, of Mass., in which he says: "with my advancing years my attachment to my native land has but become more devoted." He gives to the gentlemen addressed a million of dollars in trust, the income to be used for the promotion and encouragement of the intellectual, moral or industrial education of the young in the more desolate portions of the South and Southwestern States. Besides this income, he authorizes them to use forty per cent. of the principle within two years. In addition he places in their hands Planter's Bank bonds of Mississippi, amounting with interest, to eleven hundred thousand dollars, the proceeds to be added to and used for the purposes of the trust.

He leaves the details with the trustees, requesting that Mr. Winthrop be made Chairman. Gov. Hunt and Bishop McIlvaine Vice Chairman. The trust has been accepted and an organization already effected, of which Mr. Winthrop is chairman. Committees of Finance and Enquiry were appointed, and it is the intention of the Trustees to commence as soon as possible.

General Banks—Speculations.

Washington, Feb. 9.

General Banks, in appealing to Stevens yesterday against a pressing a vote on the Reconstruction Committee's bill, used the following language: "I believe that a day or two devoted to the subject of the reconstruction of the Government, will bring us to a solution in which we shall agree; in which the two Houses shall agree; in which the people of the country will sustain us, and in which the President will give us his support.

This speech gives rise to various speculations. It is understood however that Banks was frequently in council with the Southerners recently here, and that he favors their proposed policy. Banks intimated that any Congressional policy would be futile in operating, if opposed by the Executive. We must have laws in which the Executive will co-operate in order to make those laws effective. If we fail to secure co-operation in the laws it is our duty to drop law making, and consider the purpose and position of the President.

PERUVIAN GUANO SUBSTITUTE!

BAUGH'S

RAW BONE: SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

TRADE MARK

Manufactured under the formula originated in 1854 and patented by

BAUGH & SONS,

SOLE PROPRIETORS, AT THE

Delaware River Chemical Works,

PHILADELPHIA, U. S. A.

This old established MANURE is manufactured from Bones that have not been burned or steamed, and it contains all their original organic matter. It is active in its operation, and is a fertiliser of great durability. It does not exhaust the soil like Peruvian Guano, but on the contrary permanently improves it.

Previous to 1861 it was introduced into the Southern States to considerable extent, and again in 1865, where it has been used with remarkable success upon Cotton, Corn, Tobacco, and all Crops.

A trial will convince any planter of its merits.—Pamphlets containing well-known Southern evidence furnished upon application to New York or Philadelphia offices.

☞ Sold by Dealers in all the principal cities and towns throughout the United States and British Provinces.

LIFE INSURANCE.

MANY insure their lives because they see the folly of neglecting to do so. Many who do not insure argue that it is folly to insure. Which is right? If those who do not insure can cite instances of the harm done by a policy of life Insurance, if they can point out men who have lost $5,000 to $100,000 by Life Insurance, then upon proof of same, we must believe them. Hundreds of instances can readily be shown where parties have been benefitted to this extent.—In North Carolina there are some 6 Widows and Children ready to testify to the good resulting from a life Insurance on their only earthly dependence.

The "Etna Life Co., in loosing $25,000 the past year has relieved want—and now with over $4,000,000 of assets—offers sure protection to all those who will avail themselves of her liberal terms, by calling on

HILLSBORO' MILITARY ACADEMY.

THIS well known and popular Institution is once more in successful operation, and is prepared for the reception of Cadets at any time.—It is under the direction of a graduate, and for fifteen years, (up to the commencement of the war) a

Professor of the Virginia
MILITARY INSTITUTE, and a colleague of
STONEWALL JACKSON.

The course of the Institution is that of the Virginia Military Institute, and is such as to make the Academy a great

POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL.

A school of theoretical and applied science, in which Languages and Literature also receive a due share of attention. The discipline and instructions are on a Complete Military Basis.

The Faculty is for the present organized as follows:

Superintendent and Professor of Military History, Strategy and Political Economy, and instructor of Infantry and Cavalry tactics, GEN. R. E. COLSTON, late Professor of French, and of Military History, Strategy and Political Economy at the Virginia Military Institute, and late Brig. General C. S. A.

Until the appointment of Additional Professors, Gen. Colston takes charge of the Department of French and English studies and Belles Lettres.

Professor of Natural and Experimental Philosophy, Ordnance, Gunnery and instructor of Artillery tactics, Major D. TRUEHEART, Graduate of the Virginia Military Institute in 1850—afterwards Assistant Professor of the Va. Military Institute—attached to the United States Coast Survey—late Major and Chief of Artillery in the C. S. Army.

Professor of Mathematics, Civil and Military Engineering, Architecture, Topographical and Industrial Drawing, and Assistant Instructor of Infantry tactics, Maj. W. A. OBENCHAIN, "first distinguished Graduate," of his Class in the Virginia Military Institute, and for efficient and meritorious services during the war, promoted Captain of Engineers in the late C. S. Army

Professor of Chemistry, Agricultural Chemistry, Geology and Mineralogy, Col. LEWELLYN HOXTON, "Distinguished graduate" of West Point Military Academy, and late Chief of Artillery to Hardee's Corps.

Professor of Latin, French, Ethics and Belles Lettres, to be appointed shortly.

Surgeons Drs. E. & W. S. STRUDWICK.

New appointments will be made, and the Chairs now filled will be subdivided as soon as the number of Cadets makes it desirable.

Applicants for Professorships must be gentlemen of Scientific and Military education, who have served in the field.

Candidates for admission as Cadets are advised to come without delay. Until the 1st. of February next, all those Cadets present at the Academy, will be pushed forward in their studies irrespective of classes, so as to enable them, at that time, to enter the most advanced classes for which they may be found qualified.

By coming at once they may gain an entire year in the term of their education.

1867. "THE WORLD" 1867.

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC IS INVITED to the claims of "THE WORLD" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the fearless advocate of the Constitution of the Union. Its highest merit consists in its character as An enterprising and Trustworthy Newspaper.

The next year bids fair to be a more exciting one in the history of our free institutions, than even any of the eventful ones that have preceded it. The duty presents itself to an intelligent judgment of public affairs in a full and reliable account of facts as they happen. These Two Momous always aimed to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they relate to or operate on even views of public policy. Prompt particulars in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, to the whole duty of a newspaper, and the business of This Weekly is discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, elaborate variety, accuracy, and order, that no class of readers can desire anything of interest which they wish to find. The World will publish the latest telegraphic dispatches from Europe, and from just as freely as those received by the press. Special attention to the commercial and financial features, making the most elaborate reports of the markets, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full force upon the public mind. This World this rule because it believes no other is honest, because it conceives that its first duty is to the readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance.
